

A Perfect Prescription for Growth Portfolios

VanEck Pharmaceutical ETF

Investing In The Pharmaceutical Sector

The leaders in the pharmaceutical sector have benefitted from the consolidation of profits, improved economies of scale, the development of new drugs and an aging population. FDA annual approvals have doubled over the last decade. On average, each approval creates $18.6B in revenue while costing only $1.8B.

Pharmaceutical Companies Change Lives

Pharmaceuticals are responsible for increasing life expectancy, saving money through preventative treatment, and eradicating diseases. Pharmaceutical advancements accounted for 73% for the increase in life expectancy from 2000 to 2009. The WHO estimated that for every $1 the US spends on childhood vaccines, over $10 in disease treatment cost is saved.

Why PPH?

Highly Liquid Companies

Index seeks to track the most liquid companies in the industry based on market capitalization and trading volume

Industry Leaders

Index methodology favors the largest companies in the industry

Global Scope

Portfolio may include both domestic and U.S. listed foreign companies, allowing for enhanced industry representation

VanEck Pharmaceutical ETF (PPH®) seeks to replicate as closely as possible, before fees and expenses, the price and yield performance of the MVIS®US Listed Pharmaceutical 25 Index (MVPPHTR), which is intended to track the overall performance of companies involved in pharmaceuticals, including pharmaceutical research and development as well as production, marketing and sales of pharmaceuticals. Such companies may include medium-capitalization companies and foreign companies that are listed on a U.S. exchange. To be initially eligible for the Pharmaceutical Index, companies must generate at least 50% of their revenues from pharmaceuticals. Pharmaceuticals include companies engaged primarily in research (including research contractors) and development as well as production, marketing and sales of pharmaceuticals (excluding pharmacies).

The "Net Asset Value" (NAV) of a Fund is determined at the close of each business day, and represents the dollar value of one share of the fund it is calculated by taking the total assets of the fund, subtracting total liabilities, and dividing by the total number of shares outstanding. The NAV is not necessarily the same as the ETF intraday trading value. Investors should not expect to buy or sell shares at NAV. Index returns assume reinvestment of all income and do not reflect any management fees or brokerage expenses associated with fund returns. Returns for actual fund investors may differ from what is shown because of differences in timing, the amount invested and fees and expenses. You cannot invest directly in an index.
